

MINING MATTERS.

is the amount of publicity which is being secured through the exhibit made at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. Scores of mining men and mining engineers have already visited the Exposition and many others are preparing to make the visit during the fall months now at hand. Many of these engineers have, after visiting St. Louis, passed on to the mining districts in which they are interested. Manufacturers of mining machinery have already discovered this to their own satisfaction, and several good orders for machinery have resulted from the visit of these gentlemen to the United States. During the past week a party of sixteen engineers from Europe landed in New York and will visit the principal engineering works of the country, as well as the Exposition. Many other technically trained men are to be in attendance at the Electrical Congress which is to be held in St. Louis during the present month, and afterwards pursue their investigations elsewhere, while the American Institute of Mining Engineers, which holds its annual meeting in the Lake Superior country, were to arrive in St. Louis on the morning of the 27th inst., where their meeting will be continued.

MUTE WALKS 7,000 MILES.

St. Louis Mo., Sept. 20.—Louis G. Madrigal, a 19 year old boy, who started from Lima, Peru, Sept. 2, 1902, has arrived here after a walk of 7,000 miles, believed to be the longest journey ever made on foot. Madrigal is a deaf mute and, being unable to speak a word about his trip, he carries a witness to his remarkable exploit a set of fourteen books, which contain the certificates of the mayors, postmasters, railroad agents and officials in more than 500 cities and towns through which he passed on the trip. In the collection are the autographs of four presidents of Central and South American republics, the seals of several consulates of the United States and the signatures of numerous minor officials.

CASPER—CLARK.

At the residence of the parents of the bride, near Hampton, Ky., on Sunday last, Dr. A. A. Casper was united in marriage to Miss Ora Lee Clark, daughter of Mr. Lynn Clark, Rev. J. B. Lowrey officiating. The bride is a lovely girl, endowed with all those virtues and graces, those beauties of mind and of person that combine to make the perfect woman. The groom is an accomplished gentleman, a physician with growing practice, skillful in his profession and the Press sincerely congratulates him in winning for his own one of the fairest flowers of Livingston.

The happy couple will make their home in the town of Joy, and may the name be a pleasant surmise of their future.

A FINANCIAL SUCCESS.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 24.—The World's Fair will be a financial success, as well as a great tribute to the management and the country at large, which has put up its good money with expectation of returns. But the returns are here. Over 400,000 visitors are in St. Louis today, and the hotels have booked in advance during October an average attendance from the States of 500,000 people.

I have a political item which the Times' Republican readers may consider a chance for an investment. There will be placed at the German Bank on Monday next $200,000 that Judge D. Cady Harlick will be the next Governor of the State of New York. This means that Alton B. Parker will receive the electoral vote of New York. With Tom Taggart carrying Indiana, Parker will be elected. In heart and soul William J. Bryan is anxious to secure Parker's election. By the way he asked me to say a good word for Ollie James. I told him he did not need it. Ollie is good for 10,000 majority in the First district.

Cut your apples in large quarters. They will bring more money. Schwab.

The carpenter is abroad in the land and many new homes are going up. Not a few of them are to be occupied by young people, who have lately gone through the ordeal of a wedding march and marriage ceremony. As a matter of course there has been a great deal of talking "under the roses" about the location, the style of architecture, the quality and quantity of furniture to be purchased, and how they intend to live when they take possession of this modernized Eden. Ah, we wish we could impress it on their minds that it doesn't matter so much whether the house be built after Gothic or pioneer style of architecture, whether the furniture is of fashionable make or homi manufacture; whether the walls are hung with costly tapestry or with family wardrobe; if love and virtue cement the family circle, it will be a home in the truest sense of the word. The body is but the dwelling place of the soul, so likewise the house is but the tenement of the home. We cannot all have perfect forms, and classic features, but we can have pure, beautiful spirits, we cannot all have elegant, richly furnished houses, but we can have sunny, pleasant homes.

J. W. Blas, Jr., Mayor.

KENTUCKY POLITICS.

It was not possible for the Democrats of the Third district to make a mistake in nominating a candidate for Congress. Senator Nat Porter or Jim Richardson could have made a winning fight against the Republicans. Fortunately the nomination of Mr. Richardson, who is one of the most brilliant newspaper men in the State, has left no bitterness and Senator Porter and his friends will lend every aid in making his election certain.

Judge Parker's letter of acceptance has been given to the public and it is all that his best friends could have desired—clear, concise, logical. No leading issue of the day is left untouched and nothing is left to conjecture as to his views upon such. A spirit of broad patriotism pervades the entire document; the oracle has spoken and his enemies are confounded. This letter, like all the other public utterances of the Democratic nominee, will strengthen both the party and its candidate before the country.

Ollie James will be on the stump for the Democrats at the earliest possible moment. No other speaker has more admirers than the Herculean Congressman from the First district. His splendid presence is in itself a favorable introduction and when he adds to that real merit as a speaker, with the spirit and fire of a true orator, he wins his hearers without effort. The Campaign committee will do its utmost to meet the demands for Congressman James' services, but if he were like the fabled gentleman of old, three men in one, he would be unable to fill all the appointments that have been made for him.
